

Man pleads guilty to sex trafficking

A Rochester man pleaded guilty Friday to sex trafficking of a minor.

Michael T. Williams pleaded guilty in front of U.S. District Court Judge Frank Geraci. The charge carries a mandatory sentence of 10 years in prison, U.S. Attorney William Hochul announced.

Between January and February 2012, Williams enticed a girl under the age of 18 to engage in commercial sex acts. The victim, 16, was taken to a Caroline Street address by Williams and she had photos taken of her that were posted on backpage.com.

The girl said all the money she received from performing sexual acts was then turned over to Williams. Sentencing is scheduled for Nov. 9.

Man found in creek in Batavia park

A male body was discovered in Tonawanda Creek at Batavia's Kibbe Park Friday afternoon.

Genesee County Dispatch Center received a call at 2:33 p.m. Batavia Police responded and confirmed that a deceased white man was in the creek. The body appeared to have been in the water for a period of time, according to police. The Batavia Fire Department helped retrieve the body from the water. The body was sent to the Monroe County Medical Examiner's Office for an autopsy.
